

Journal of Parliamentary Studies

Notes for Authors

Journal of Parliamentary Studies is a University approved peer reviewed bi annual journal of the Institute of Parliamentary Affairs. The Journal publishes original research articles on issues and problems in the areas of Democracy and Constitutionalism, Parliamentary Democracy, Social Change, Development, Political Economy, Law, Ethics, Philosophy, Culture, etc. We welcome articles which are multi-disciplinary in outlook. We believe that such articles are in great demand by the academic, policy makers and the general public. Each volume will contain research articles, mixture of review articles, essays, interviews, etc. Submission to the journal will be taken as indicating that the work is original, unpublished and not under consideration elsewhere. The decision of the reviewers will be final.

All articles should be submitted online (inpajournal@gmail.com). Contributors must provide their affiliations and complete postal and e-mail addresses with their papers.

1. All articles must be accompanied by an abstract of 150-200 words. Notes should be numbered serially and presented as footnotes.
2. British spelling should be used throughout, Single quotes throughout, double quotes within single quotes and spelling of words in quotations should not be changed. Quotations of 45 words or more should be separated from the text and intended with one line space above and below.
3. Tables and figures should be indicated by number separately.
4. References: Alphabetic list of all books, articles, essays, theses, and documents referred should be provided at the end of articles. Peer Review Policy

Journal of Parliamentary Studies adheres to a rigorous reviewing policy in which the identity of both the reviewer and author are always concealed from both parties. Journal of Parliamentary Studies is committed to delivering high quality, fast peer-review for your paper. Reviewer's decision and the content of their review is not published on the site. The Editor or members of the Editorial Board may occasionally submit their own manuscripts for possible publication in the Journal. In these cases, the peer review process will be managed by alternative members of the Board/ review team and the submitting Editor/Board member will have no involvement in the decision-making process.
